

Howard Leong-Poi, MD

Biography

Howard Leong-Poi is the Head of the Division of Cardiology at St. Michael's Hospital, Unity Health Toronto, Professor in the Department of Medicine at the University of Toronto and the Brazilian Ball Chair in Cardiology. He is the Medical Director of the Heart, Lung & Vascular Program at Unity Health Toronto. His research has been supported by grants from the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada, Canadian Foundation for Innovation and the Ministry of Research & Innovation. He has held salary support award from the Canadian Institutes of Health Research, Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada. He has published 141 articles in peer-reviewed journals. His primary clinical interests include ischemic and valvular heart disease, and cardiac imaging, in particular contrast echocardiography; and current research interests are ultrasound-targeted gene therapy for cardiovascular diseases.